

■ APS MEMBER CONTRIBUTIONS

APS MEMBER CONTRIBUTIONS

The operations of the APS are supported by an extensive array of Committees, Taskforces and Advisory, Reference, Working and Conference Organising Groups to inform policy making. A large number of members of the Society participate in these groups, bringing a diverse range of skills and expertise and representing a balance of geographic regions and specialist/employment contexts.

The following people have made significant contributions over the last year by willingly giving their time and expertise to participate on a range of APS Committees and Groups, or to edit APS journals and newsletters. The voluntary contributions of these members in so many different capacities are essential to the functioning of the APS and have been a significant factor in the Society's achievements this year.
