Mission

We are dedicated to advancing the discipline and profession of psychology in the communities we serve, for the benefit of all Australians, by ensuring the success and accomplishment of our members.

Vision

We amplify the role of psychological science and psychologists in helping people achieve positive change so they can confidently contribute their best to the community.

This means we:

- Strive to ensure psychological services are used to benefit individuals, systems and communities
- Enhance the impact, regard and reputation of Psychologists
- Ensure the profession focuses on quality improvement strategies and research on responding to increasingly complex societal issues
- Provide education and training, professional development, peer support, and peer review
- Engage with key stakeholders

Our Values

The things we do, the way we do them, and the decisions we make are guided by:

- Integrity
- Influence
- Professionalism
- Respect

Our commitment to the community

We adhere to the APS Code of Ethics that guides practice, puts clients first, and calls for a duty to the community as well as requiring professional relationships with other psychologists and health professionals, clients and the community.
